01 Show up ready to work.

Fighter conditioning requires discipline and effort. Every workout is an opportunity to improve.

02 Train for performance, not just appearance.

The goal is to build a body that moves well, performs well, and stays strong under pressure.

03 Strength is your foundation.

Strong muscles support endurance, power, and injury prevention.

04 Conditioning builds resilience.

Endurance training teaches your body to perform even when fatigue sets in.

05 Explosiveness matters.

Speed and power come from training movements that require quick bursts of force.

06 Core strength drives athletic movement.

A strong core connects your upper and lower body, improving power and stability.

07 Get comfortable being uncomfortable.

Fighter training often requires pushing past fatigue and mental barriers.

08 Recovery is part of the process.

Proper sleep, hydration, and rest allow your body to adapt and improve.

09 Stay consistent.

Results come from showing up day after day and putting in the work.

10 Train with purpose.

Every exercise, round, and rep has a purpose. Focus on improving with every session.
