

THE GOLD STANDARD · BY HANNAH GOLDY

EATING GUIDE — LEAN MUSCLE

A full day of eating, snacks & eating out

WHAT A FULL DAY OF EATING MIGHT LOOK LIKE

MEAL	EXAMPLE
Breakfast	Eggs, oatmeal, and fruit
Lunch	Grilled chicken, rice, and vegetables
Snack	Greek yogurt with berries
Dinner	Salmon, potatoes, and vegetables
Snack	Protein shake or rice cakes with peanut butter

HANNAH'S RECOMMENDED SNACKS

- ◆ Greek yogurt with fruit
- ◆ Protein shakes
- ◆ Cottage cheese
- ◆ Rice cakes with peanut butter
- ◆ Hard-boiled eggs
- ◆ Protein bars

EATING FOR GROWTH

- ◆ Eat 3–5 balanced meals through the day. Each meal: protein for repair, carbohydrates for training energy, healthy fats for overall health.
- ◆ A balanced meal before and after training supports performance and recovery.
- ◆ Gaining too fast? Slightly reduce calories, keep protein high, add 1–2 steady-state conditioning days.
- ◆ Not growing? Slightly increase calories and protein, make workouts progressively harder, improve sleep.

EATING OUT

- ◆ Go for a lean protein option · balanced meals with protein and carbohydrates.
- ◆ Avoid excessively large portions — box up half before you start.
- ◆ Ask for light butter/oil, sauce on the side. Consistency over perfection.